FOAMplus® Mini

Storopack launches FOAMplus® Mini: Flexible foam-in-bag protection without upfront investment

Metzingen, May 2026. Storopack, the specialist in protective packaging solutions, announces the launch of its latest expansion of the foam packaging product portfolio: FOAMplus® Mini. This new foam-in-place solution delivers maximum product protection straight from stock – no machine is required. With FOAMplus® Mini, Storopack introduces a portable and easy-to-use option for businesses shipping mid-weight to heavy products that need to be reliably fixed and protected in shipping cartons. Unlike conventional foam-in-bag systems, FOAMplus® Mini comes ready to use and eliminates the need for dispensing equipment or upfront investment, making it the ideal entry-level solution for companies with smaller daily shipping volumes.

Versatile protection and easy handling

FOAMplus® Mini stands out for its high level of protection, ensuring that products are securely cushioned. Thanks to its fast activation, the foam expands within seconds to form a custom fit around the item, providing a professional level of packaging wherever it is needed. The simple handling - press, mix, and pack - allows any user to create reliable protective cushions instantly, without prior training or technical expertise.

Available in different bag sizes, FOAMplus® Mini offers flexibility for a wide range of applications. Whether used by e-commerce retailers, repair shops, galleries, mailrooms or moving services, the solution is designed to support businesses where speed, flexibility and simplicity are essential. "With FOAMplus® Mini, we are addressing the needs of customers who require maximum protection but do not have the volumes or infrastructure to justify a machine-based system," says Marco Corradi, Product Manager Foam at Storopack "It's fast, it's reliable, and it's foam-in-bag protection made simple."

FOAMplus® Mini is now available in North America.
